Dear Bob and Ramona,

Where do I begin to thank you? It had been a long road until I met you, Bob. You gave me my hope back. You gave me my smile back. You gave me my confidence back. How does a person ever repay back for this?

Looking back over the last few years and wondering at times, if life would ever go back to normal? Would there ever come a time that people would not stare? You made this all possible for me.

Getting to know you both was a wonderful experience. Seeing your compassion in what you do for people and did for me. I could see how fulfilled you felt. Listening to your interesting stories was a highlight to my clinic visits.

Thank you for giving me my life back. You are such a wonderful couple, and I will always remember my experience at your clinic with fond memories.
